Editorial

Welcome to the June edition of Uni Gliding. With our chief editor Matthew Tippett struck down with a horrible disease (exams), I have assumed responsibility for this month newsletter. In it you will find a membership list, detailing the identities of several classes of people. Firstly, we have the regular members who have been flying for one or more years and have progressed along to single seater flying, instructing and the like. Then there are people who are into the post solo training, for example Paul Stead, who joined the club just this year and has now discovered the exhilaration of commanding an aircraft. Or others who have been training, hoping to go solo. Then there is another member, one that makes up the majority of the list. These are people possibly like you, who have either been to Lochiel once, ..or.. Not at All. I sat on the O'Week desk in the sun for a week and was responsible for signing up about a third of you. So after the mid-year exams, come and have a go. At least try it once, just to say you have done it, I'm sure you will enjoy it.

Gary Hill, editor.

PRESIDENTS REPORT

Congratulations to Paul Stead for going solo, a great achievement due to the fact he has only been training for three months. Congratulations also to Tom Melville for converting into the Libelle. The club now has a couple of new instructors, both Peter Cassidy and myself have gained our Assistant Instructor Ratings.

The Finders Ranges Trip had a good turn out with all the instructors attending. Even with this incredible array of talent, only Saturday was soarable, with the longest flight being about one hour. Both on Sunday and Monday it was either raining, drizzling or there was a low cloudbase. So Monday was spent in the middle of a cold paddock derigging six gliders, and due to the fact that it had been raining most of the time, the trailers had to be pulled out of the paddock with Redmond's 4wd. Then the long drive back to Lochiel, followed by the rigging of the gliders again, and putting them back in the hangar.

As contact person it is my responsibility to organise rides up to Lochiel. This is almost always for the benefit of new people who do not/cannot get up there themselves. The regular members know all this and I need them to supply the rides to Lochiel. If the regular members do not ring me I have to spend Friday running around organising cars and instructors for the weekend. Also I have had to turn away people, both regulars and passengers, due to the fact that I do not know of any spare seats going to Lochiel, only to find that other pilots arrive who have not rung me. If you are one of these people, you could find yourself on the end of the flying roster.

It is for your own benefit to ring me. If you do not, you may find yourself missing out on passengers to drive up to Lochiel, which will save you money, or, you could arrive at Lochiel to find yourself the only one there, because flying has been called off due to lack of interest. SO RING ME.

My First Day Flying - By A Guest Writer.

I had always wanted to fly; being a pilot was always high up on my list of career choices. However a University degree was the path that I chose, but it ultimately led me to the Lochiel Airfield with the Adelaide University Gliding Club. But not by the usual means, I wasn't a member due to the O' Week recruitment drive, but my younger brother was, having joined up in this his first year at Uni. So we used to watch him head off to the field and await his return later in the day to see what new stories he had to tell. "Yes, I will come flying with you one day, no, I've got too many assignments to do at the moment." Stories were told of loops and aerobatics and hangar runs, of learning to fly and even learning to take off and land.

Finally by whatever stroke of fortune, I accompanied my brother to the Lochiel airfield, not really knowing what to expect, having heard much about people like Andrew McGrath, whom I was assured was fun to fly with. We arrived at the field to find a strong westerly wind blowing. This, I was informed, meant we could stay up all day flying on the ridge to the east of the airfield, riding in the rising air as it was deflected up by the ridge. Indeed, one of the young pilots, David Teagle, was up there somewhere in a plane called an Arrow, attempting a FIVE hour flight, in order to win a duration award. So it looked as if we'd chosen a good day to fly. So good in fact that all the club's aircraft were flying the ridge whilst other members took time out to fly kites, or build model planes, or to work on the single seater Phoebus, which was having an undercart alarm installed and would fly later that day.

Soon I was on my way out to the launch point as a glider had landed ready for someone else to fly. A very important looking person arrived to supervise. He was the Chief Flying Instructor, Redmond Quinn. The glider was relaunched and flew a square pattern back to land only a minute or so later. "I thought we could stay up all day?" I wondered to myself. Someone else, having sensed that I was new and also having read my mind, mentioned "cable break". The cable was soon repaired and the Bergfalke twin seater was again on its way to rejoin the others on the booming ridge, where they were flying at up to 1600 feet, such was the excellence of the conditions that day.

So I stood and watched what was going on in the air. I saw an aircraft up high suddenly spin a couple of times and lose some height. Part of normal training, I was assured. It looked like fun. My brother got to fly soon and stayed up for over one and a half hours with his instructor, Dennis Medlow, and was shown how to spin, just as I had seen. Soon I was off for a ride on the winch to see how the gliders were launched, but there was a problem as we arrived at the end of the strip - the cable, instead of having laid out along the runway, had wound off the winch drum and around the back wheel drum of the truck. It was a bit of a mess, so we called up for assistance. A radio call was also made to the pilots in the air, telling them not to land until the winch had been fixed up. I imagined those pilots were very happy to hear that, given the marvellous flying conditions prevailing that day......

In next month's conclusion to our story the winch is repaired, the new passenger learns how to look after an empty glider on the ground in windy conditions and finally gets to go on his first flying lesson - an experience he will never forget.

So you want to fly this weekend?

First you must ring the club contact person on Thursdays between 8:00 and 9:30 pm (He doesn't like to miss Black Adder - Ed). You must do this so he can organise instructors, transport if you need it and other such oddities. If you do need transport to Lochiel it can be organised with a lift from the University Footbridge at 7:00am or from the Caltex service station on Port Wakefield Road, Bolivar (Just past the White Horse Inn) at 7:30 am. Remember to ring the contact person or you could find yourself forgotten.

Upcoming Events

The first Wednesday in July, the 3rd at 7:30pm in the Jerry Portus Room, a Special General Meeting for constitutional amendments. These amendments will enable the executive to grant life membership of the club, that is of course, if the amendment is passed.

For any more information just ask any of the regular members, or ring the social convener.
